

THE CANDIDATES ARE AGAINST THE RING

Ask Endorsement of Taxpayers and Not the Bosses; Vote For Them.

Democratic candidates for county offices ask only the endorsement of the voters of El Paso, whom they expect to serve. They have not sought nor would they accept the endorsement of a political machine or ring boss. They are independent citizens and offer themselves for office on their qualifications as men and not because any man or set of men selected them.

Eugene L. Harris, candidate for county judge on the anti ring ticket, is a young lawyer, who has made good in his own profession. He is a graduate of the University of Texas. He served one term as the representative of El Paso county at the state legislature and made an enviable record as a careful and honest law maker. He is representing no faction, ring or political machine in his race for county judge and will be under obligations to no one but the voters of El Paso county when elected. His platform is made up of a single plank—the conduct of the office in a business like manner and the strict accounting of all monies to the taxpayers.

A Business Man.
C. M. McKinney, candidate for district clerk, is a rancher and a merchant of the El Paso valley. He is a successful business man, has worked faithfully to develop the El Paso valley, and has never held office, has never been connected with any ring in El Paso county and has no political attachments which would interfere with his discharge of the duties of this important office which he seeks. He has been a resident of El Paso county for many years, is a large taxpayer in the county and has the endorsement of his entire community in the valley.

For County Attorney.
Joe Bryan, candidate for county attorney, was born in Louisville, Ky., and was reared in Las Cruces, N. M. He is a young man of ability and good judgment. He speaks both Spanish and English and has the necessary discretion and knowledge of men to discharge the duties of his office in a highly efficient manner. He is familiar with the details of the office having been assistant county attorney for some time.

Business Man for Treasurer.
J. F. Kilburn, candidate for county treasurer, is another business man who offers his training and business ability to the voters of El Paso county. Having conducted large ranches in Colorado and New Mexico, Mr. Kilburn is a successful business man and will give to the important office of county treasurer the same careful attention which he has given his personal affairs. He is a man of the west, broad, liberal and self made. Mr. Kilburn is asking for the office of county treasurer from the people and not from any county ring and pledges himself to render his accounts to the taxpayers of the county.

Right Man for Place.
El Paso county is a great business institution and needs business men to conduct its affairs. The county candidate for tax assessor, is the right man for the place. Having made a success of business as a merchant at Fabens, Mr. Camp is one of the young bankers of El Paso, has made every dollar he has by his own efforts and is not obligated to any man. He is aggressive, he knows the values of lands in the valley and in El Paso county from first hand experience and would make an ideal tax collector.

Tea Eyck Has Place Record.
W. J. Tea Eyck, candidate for constable, has been a peace officer for years in El Paso and El Paso county. His record in his best endorsement is known to the people with whom he will have to deal as constable and will give everyone a square deal without showing favor to any man or set of men. His experience as a peace officer will be of great value to the county and will guarantee a law abiding community with Will Tea Eyck in office.

FERGUSON PRAISED, BALL IS FLAYED AT THE RING MEETING

"Anti" Candidates Declared to Be Those Who Failed to Get on "Ring" Ticket.

Jim Ferguson was praised, Tom Ball condemned and the "anti ring" candidates declared to be those who failed to get on the "ring" ticket at a meeting held in Cleveland square, Thursday evening.

It was a "ring" meeting with many of the familiar faces of previous campaigns missing from the speakers' platform. The crowd filled all of the benches and formed a fringe around the cleared space. A band played before the speaking started and between each of the four speeches. Announced as a Ferguson meeting, the speakers continued their efforts to stir the masses. While state senator Claude R. Hudspeth was speaking for Ferguson and against Ball an automobile stopped on Missouri street and a telephone voice interrupted the speaker.

"Vote for Gene Harris," we want success for a ring boss,"

"That's right, yell for him now, my friend. You won't have a chance after Saturday," the speaker yelled.

"I anticipate 10,000 settlers in territory adjacent to Los Angeles next year," said Blanchard today.

"The largest project the government has ever undertaken is the Rio Grande project near El Paso, but nevertheless a market for Los Angeles products is fast developing. The reservoir is the largest artificial body of water in the world and contains water enough when full to cover the state of Connecticut a foot deep."

"From the number of interested people who have already made application for information concerning the government lands near Los Angeles territory, it is my opinion that next year will see the largest number of settlers come here of any year since the irrigation projects have been in operation."

COL. R. M. JOHNSTON, a life long Democrat and a wheel horse of the party in Texas, a confederate veteran and ex-U. S. senator from Texas, editor of the Houston Post, says to Ferguson in his letter published in this morning's El Paso Times:

"And let me say at parting, sir, Texas has never put such material as you in the governor's chair and never will do so."

GOVERNMENT WILL OPEN MESA LAND IN YUMA VALLEY

Says Rio Grande Valley Project Largest of Government Undertakings.

Los Angeles, Calif., July 24.—With 143,500 acres of reclaimed land on which the government has expended $25,000,000 for irrigating purposes open for homesteading, all tributary to Los Angeles, the government is now preparing to open the mesa lands near Yuma for citrus farms.

The mesa lands are 40,000 acres in extent, said to be absolutely frostless and contain the elements for citrus culture. The irrigation project will include an immense pumping plant and dam that will cost approximately $5,000,000.

To Build Railroad.
According to statistics Blanchard, who is located at 808 Federal building disseminating information about the government land, a new narrow gauge railroad will be built through the Yuma irrigation project by the government, being the second government owned railroad in this country.

"I anticipate 10,000 settlers in territory adjacent to Los Angeles next year," said Blanchard today.

PROGRESSIVES TO BREAK AWAY FROM REPUBLICAN PARTY

Fusion Between the Two Clans in Arizona Is Discouraged by Leader.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 24.—Fervent activity is evident among the local leaders of the "Progressive" party, who are bending every effort toward head-offing any possible effort of the fusion of the ball moose and Republicans in Yuma county.

When word came that the two parties had united in Yuma, under the Republican name and the "Progressive" platform, with the understanding that Roosevelt would be endorsed for president in 1916, Dwight B. Heard, who expects to be the ball moose candidate for United States senator, immediately left for Tucson and Bisbee. He had learned that J. Lorenzo Hubbell and Robert E. Morrison, the Republicans who won over the faithful in Yuma, had left for those places bent on spreading the fusion propaganda.

According to the best information that has been received here, Heard was sworn in as a member of the "Progressive" party at meetings in Tucson and Bisbee but the "Progressives" decided not to combine with the "Republicans" here that the Yuma amalgamation did not have the consent of the rank and file of the party, even in that county, but was entered into by a few ambitious leaders.

If the corporations and special interests are supporting Ball, why did the attorney general of Texas have to enjoin ninety of the biggest corporations, trusts and railroads from contributing to the Ferguson campaign fund in violation of the laws of Texas. The people understand. VOTE FOR BALL—Political advertisement.

The Daily Novelette WHICH IS SWIFT!

He loved her eyes; He loved her hair; He loved her lips; And beauty rare.

HE was an idealist.

"Darling," he said, "you know I love you, and I know you know I love you, and you know I know you know I love you, and it is very sweet of you to accept me, considering the fact that you only make it a week, but I feel it my duty to tell you one thing before you irrevocably give yourself up."

"And that, Pensburg?" she whispered, clinging closely.

"I am an idealist," he said, "and it is your marvelous chestnut hair, fresh as the horse chestnut when the dew is on it, that first attracted me to you. Now, as an idealist, I expect that gorgeous hair always to remain the same. Of course, I know it won't, but as an idealist I expect it to. I can't answer for any change of feelings that may take place inside this now loving breast, if your hair should change with time."

"Pensburg, I will take the chance!" she breathed.

100 Years Ago Today
NE hundred years ago today, following the battle of Chippewa, the American army under Gen. Brown, marched to Landy's Lane, a mile below Niagara Falls, and not far from the present location of the hotel where Canada recently offered its hospitality to the A. B. C. mediators. Sir Gordon Drummond, administrator and commander in Upper Canada, came from Kingston with 800 men to add to Gen. Rial's army, assumed command and pursued the Americans to Landy's Lane. There two armies encamped within three miles of each other, and prepared for battle. The impending conflict was highly important, as a decisive victory for the Americans would have been disastrous in the extreme for Great Britain and for Canada.

Hudspeth is against a clean election law. He said in his speech last night that he was against the Terrill election law and against any reform in the law. Of course he is.
